Bi-County Health Unit Proposed

School Registration Starts August 30

Registration for the Canyon Public Schools will begin the morning of Aug. 30 with the enrollment of high school seniors and juniors.

Enrollment of high school sophomores and freshmen and pupils in both the junior high school and elementary school will begin the morning of Aug. 31.

The Aug. 30 schedule calls for a general faculty meeting at 8 a. m. in the high school cafeteria. Following the faculty meeting, registration of high school seniors will begin at 10 a. m. At 1 p. m. high school juniors will register.

On Aug. 31, the high school registration schedule calls for sophomores to enroll from 9 a. m. until noon and freshmen from 1 p. m. to 4 p. m.

In the junior high school, registration for pupils in all three grades will last from 9 a. m. until noon. The registration is set in the junior high school gymnasium.

At the elementary school, registration will be in alphabetical order. Those with last names beginning with the letters "A" through "M" will register from 10 a. m. until noon, and "N" through "Z" from 1 p. m. to 4 p. m. Grades 1, 2 and 3 will register in the auditorium and grades 4 and 5 will register in the cafeteria.

The first day of regular classes will be Sept. 3.

All school busses will travel their regular routes for the first time Sept. 3. Parents are requested to bring their children to school for registration on either Aug. 30 or 31, according to the schedule.

The school cafeterias will begin regular operation Sept. 3. Prices for meals will be 25 cents for grades 1, 2 and 3; 30 cents for grades 4 through 12, and 35 cents for adults.

Each student in high school should pay an activity fee of $1 at the time of registration. The fee covers the cost of seven assembly programs to be presented by the Southern School Assemblies of Dallas.

Any high school student who has an outstanding account must pay it before beginning registration.

Principal J. E. Miller has requested that new students in the high school have their former principal forward a transcript of work to the principal's office at Canyon High School.

Classification of high school students is based on the number of credits completed prior to enrollment. The minimum number of credits needed for various classifications are senior, 12; junior, 7½; sophomore, 3; freshmen, less than 3. No student will be permitted to participate in the graduation ceremonies unless he has completed the required courses and has the required number of credits, Miller said.

Miller also requested that any student who has changed plans since filling out the pre-enrollment form last spring contact his office. Any student who will be in the ninth grade or above who has moved into the district since spring should go by the principal's office for a conference before school starts, if possible.

Lawrence Brotherton, principal of the junior high school, has announced that a $1.25 fee will be required of students when they enroll in the school. The fee will cover the cost of workbooks, he said.

Ask 'Token Appropriation' From Randall County Commissioners

Requests for a letter of intent to join in the organization of a bi-county health unit and for a "token appropriation" for the establishment of the unit was made of the Randall County Commissioners Court by Lewis Dodson, chairman of the Randall-Potter Citizens Health Committee, at the commission special meeting Monday.

Action on the requests were delayed until the regular meeting next Monday.

Dodson and Dr. R. A. Neblett appeared before the commission to make the requests and provide information about such a health unit.

Dodson told the commission that a survey sponsored by Canyon, Randall County, Amarillo and Potter County showed the need for several changes in the health structure of the area, one of which was the establishment of a bi-county health unit.

The Citizens Health Committee was appointed to see about carrying out the recommendations of the survey, Dodson said. A request for advice from the state health department brought information that the area needs a full-time health unit, he said.

The state recommended that only a full-time director be hired at the present time, and he should be given a chance to study the needs of the two counties, Dodson said. The state also recommended that at a later date a director of public health nursing and a sanitary engineer would be needed, he said.

He said the unit would provide sanitation, indigent care and preventive medicine.

Under the organization being planned, each of the governing bodies of the two cities and the two counties would appoint members to a board of health, which would supervise the work of the health unit.

The members of the board of health would not be paid, and would be responsible to the various governing bodies.

"We're going to have to pay one way or the other," Dr. Neblett told the commission. He said the county could either participate and share in the cost, or hire the services of the unit. He said the county has a public health problem with the new housing additions going up outside the Amarillo city limits.

Dodson told the commission no one has been able to estimate the cost of the organization of the health unit, but the committee had estimated that it could cost around $200,000 a year when it was fully operative in about five years. He said the county would participate on a pro-rate scale governed by the amount of services required.

Dodson suggested that the token payment, which would be put in the budget, but not spent until a director is hired, should be around $2,500.

He said the bi-county health unit would have no connection with the

The stars, selected from the five remaining league teams, scored first in the top of the second and were never behind in the seven-inning game.

The All-Stars hit safely 15 times off Sonny Pitt while Taylor and Sons collected 12 hits off starter Jimmy Glenn and Jerry Richardson, who relieved Glenn in the sixth.

Taylor and Sons batters were issued 12 walks while the All-Stars received eight. Pitt struck out nine batters for Taylor and Sons while Glenn and Richardson collected two.

The game marked the end of summer play with Taylor and Sons the league champion with nine wins and one loss.

Time's Running Short For News Renewals

Time is running out!

If you want to renew your subscription to the Canyon News for the old rate of $1.50 a year for in the county and $2 outside, you must act before Sept. 1.

After the first of September, new subscription rates, the first change since 1922, will take effect. The new rates will be $2.50 for in-county subscribers and $3 for out-of-county.

Gully Maker Washes Strip

A gully-making cloudburst slashed a two-mile wide strip across Randall County Saturday night, with winds that tore down buildings and broke telephone poles and rain up to six inches.

The cloudburst came while the rest of the county was enjoying slower rains up to 1½ inches. Motorists were trapped by the deluge at a point about four miles south of Canyon on the Happy highway. The place where they were stopped is beside a railroad bridge.

Outbuildings on farms through the windswept area were demolished or badly damaged.

County Agent John Brazzil said farmers in the drowned area got practically no benefit from the moisture. He said the Umbarger area got amounts up to 1½ inches, and most of the county got some rain.

Wayside Revival Starts Friday

A revival will begin Aug. 24 in the Community Church at Wayside with Dr. H. Clyde Smith of the San Jacinto Methodist Church in Amarillo as speaker.

Barney Latham of the Vigo Park Church will be songleader and Mrs. Latham will assist with a Booster Band.

Morning services will begin at 8 a. m. and evening services at 8 p. m. The revival will last through Sept. 2.

West Texas Summer Graduation Friday Night With Dallas Minister as Speaker

An address by Dr. Blake Smith, pastor of the University Baptist Church in Austin, will highlight annual summer commencement exercises Friday in Buffalo Stadium for some 200 candidates for degrees at West Texas State College.

Exercises start at 8 p. m., with a processional of faculty and graduating students across the football field into the west stands. The processional will form at 7:15, and faculty will join the group at 7:30.

Invocation will be given by the Rev. Winston Wilbanks, pastor of the Canyon First Presbyterian Church. Degrees will be conferred by President James P. Cornette, and reserve Army commissions will be conferred by Lt. Col. Edward L. Lindsey, professor of military science and tactics. Singing of Alma Mater, to close the program, will be led by Dr. Houston Bright, associate professor of music.

Known throughout the Southwest for his ministry to college students and for his personal counseling service in Austin, Dr. Smith has spoken on 85 college and university campuses. He was a key speaker for the Hazen Foundation's Religion and Higher Education Conference in Colorado Springs in 1954.

In 1947 at Oslo, Norway, he was Bible leader at the International Christian Youth Conference, composed of 1,250 young people from 71 nations. Dr. Smith holds the B.D. degree from Yale Divinity School, and has done graduate work at Columbia and Chicago universities and Hartford Divinity School.

Water Shortage? One's in the Cards for Canyon

That annoying red in Canyon's water over the weekend, although not dangerous for human consumption, pointed out an approaching water shortage that will most likely develop by next summer. The shortage could come later this summer if any of the city's wells fail any further.

The red in the system came from the churning of water in the underground storage tank when water from City Well No. 5, recently put into production, mixed with water from the other wells. The water from No. 5 contains some lime, and the lime caused a reaction in the tank that churned the water and picked up sediment from the bottom of the tank.

The annoying sediment should be out of the lines this week and the water should clear up.

Water from Well No. 5 was put into the system last Thursday when consumption grew higher than the production of the other six wells. Well No. 5 was taken out of the system Saturday when the red showed up, City Secretary Andrew Boggs said. In all, the well supplied water to the system for about 15 hours, he said.

The well was drilled in the fall of 1953 and capped for future use. Last June, Well No. 7 began failing, with a production drop from 386 gallons a minute to around 250 gallons a minute.

At that time, total production of the city's operating wells was 2.24 million gallons a day. The city commission decided to open up Well No. 5 and add it to the system, to make an estimated 2.8 or 2.9 million gallons a day.

When Well No. 5 was drilled, it tested at 750 gallons a minute. The records do not show that a chemical analysis of the water was made at that time, but Dudley Bayne, former city secretary, said it was tasted and had about the same taste as the other wells.

The static level in Well No. 5 when drilled was 243 feet.

After a new pump was purchased and installed in Well No. 7 and the big pump in No. 7 transferred to No. 5, it was discovered that the static level of No. 5 had dropped 50 feet to 293 feet.

When pumping started in Well No. 5, it was found that the water tasted salty and gyppy. On the first day, the pump started sucking air, that is, the intake bowls at the bottom of the shaft were not completely under water.

The well was shut down, and another test started on the second day. The well pumped between 425 and 450 gallons a minute, and the salty taste seemed to be less. A sample of the water was taken for chemical analysis, however.

A state health department man told Boggs that the water could be added to the system in an emergency, and the dilution with water from the other wells would cut the salty taste so that it would not be noticeable.

Last Thursday an emergency developed when consumption outran production, and the well's water was added to the system with the resulting red sediment.

Since the middle of June, when individual pumping tests were given each well, another well, No. 6, has failed. In June it was pumping 404 gallons a minute, and this week it is pumping 375 gallons a minute.

Well No. 7, with the new pump, is producing 300 gallons a minute now.

Without using Well No. 5, the city's daily production capacity is approximately 2.1 million gallons a day.

On two separate days in August, the 16th and 17th, water consumption in the city was 2,180,100 gallons—slightly over the total possible production. On one other day, the 13th, consumption was 2,155,700 gallons—again slightly over the total possible production.

On six other days, the 7th, 8th, 9th, 10th, 14th and 15th, consumption was over 2 million gallons, but under 2.1 million gallons.

Since Saturday when Well No. 5 was taken out of the system, it has been running with the water spilling onto the ground in the hope that the water will clear up and lose some of its bad features.

The chemical analysis, however, points to the definite possibility that the water will not clear up.

The analysis show 32 parts per million of sand, 80 of calcium, 50 of magnesium, 691 of sodium, 341 of bicarbonate, 210 of sulphate, 1,000 of cloride, and 1.2 of fluoride. In hypothetical combinations, the analysis shows 1,649 parts per million of salt. The Public Health Service maximum content for salt in water for human consumption is 250 parts per million.

In addition, the water is extremely hard—some 400 parts per million of hardness. An average chemical analysis of the other six wells shows only 39 parts per million of hardness.

The average analysis shows about 6 parts per million calcium, .08 of iron, 6 of magnesium, less than

It seems to be right easy to read anything into an article. For instance, in last week's story about the school's budget for next year is a statement that the tax rate of $1.50 will be split up with $1.17 going to the operating and maintenance funds and 33 cents going to the interest and sinking fund.

Within a day there was a rumor going around that the school board intended to raise the tax rate 33 per cent. As a matter of fact, the story actually said that the school board had adopted the same tax rate as last year--which, to most anyone, means that it hasn't been raised.

The 33 cents earmarked for the interest and sinking fund goes to pay off the bonded indebtedness of the school system, and it is a part of the general $1.50 per hundred dollar valuation tax rate. The school board did not raise taxes.

Sometime back there was a discussion of the meeting of the school board during which the curriculum was studied. The discussion mentioned the problem faced by the school with the resignation of Hope Rusk as music teacher in the junior high school. It was solved this way:

Ada V. Clark, formerly choral director and music teacher in the high school, will take care of both junior and senior high school music during the coming year. Mrs. A. K. Knott was employed to teach mathematics in the high school. The two moves filled the vacancies at that time in the faculties of the high school and junior high school.

* * *

Five teachers will join the faculties of the school system this year. In addition to Mrs. Knott, there will be Mrs. Suzanne Tatman in the homemaking department of the high and junior high schools, Forrest Faver as assistant coach and social science teacher in junior high school, Oscar Hinger in the place of Mrs. Vearl Iverson for the sixth grade, and Mrs. Crews Henry in place of Bill Fonti in the elementary school.

In addition, Mrs. R. C. Campsey will be assistant librarian.

Oh, well, maybe not many people wanted to come downtown to shop Saturday afternoon, anyway. There were quite a few empty parking places, however. Businessmen and their employes must have left their cars at home. They weren't parked on the streets one block away from the square. At least I got used to parking off the square.

* * *

First an increase in water rates, then a tax rate raise within a few month—only to top it off with raising valuations on some people's property. That's what it took to get a teapot tempest started in Canyon.

Those who stirred the pot made statements like, "continually raising taxes;" confused the city commission with the entirely separate board of equalization; and in general raised some false feeling. They missed certain essential facts, however.

The tax rate increase ordered this summer, to become effective with this year's billings, was the first since 1951. Valuations on some properties have been changed each year (some up and some down) and those changes will probably go on each year. The board of equalization for the city, serving without pay, is appointed anew each year, and most often has new personnel since few people like to be cussed over and over. The board reviews the valuation structure of the city each year.

The job of the board of equalization is simply to try to equalize valuations on all property in the city so that each property owner carries his fair share of the tax load. The board has nothing at all to do with raising or lowering taxes. That's the city commission's job.

The place to protest expenditures of the city and to protest tax raises is not the board of equalization or in petitions. Nor is it on street corners. The best place, in fact, the only effective place, is at a meeting of the city commission and especially at those meetings held prior to the adoption of the budget for the coming year.

To protest expenditures through a petition after the money is already spent is not logical at all. Protest before the money is allocated. If the city commission pays no heed to your protests, the thing to do is to elect a new city commission at the next election.

When I hear people griping about city taxes I think about how no one filed for election to the city commission last spring except the three who were elected. And fewer than 100 voted in that election.

Saturday morning while I was still irascible and not quite wide awake, a bus following me down Fourth Avenue tried to climb right into my trunk. It made me angry enough that I slowed down to the 25 mile-an-hour speed limit and made the bus slow down, too.

That reminded me that it's time for we wild drivers to take it a bit easier. After all, school starts in a little under two weeks and it will take a while for us to get into the habit of driving carefully. Little children just don't know what a speeding car can do, and are apt to be bad about running into the street without warning.

The children of the town will be out in full force with the opening of school and we'll have to look out for them. The city will have a school patrolwoman by the opening of school, although she hasn't been selected yet.

She'll be looking out for the youngsters around the school, but we'll have to do the looking out everywhere else in town. Chief Ralph Pray will also be out looking, too, but he'll be out looking for we wild drivers. Let's hope he doesn't find any, not because he didn't look in the right places, but because we've gotten into the habit of driving carefully.

If you picture yourself as an overweight housewife, don't blame yourself too much. Today, one-story houses eliminate stair climbing, automatic dryers keep you from hanging out the wash, a vacuum replaces the broom.

You are lucky if you can use up 2,000 calories a day when sweeping or dusting consume only 125, sewing or writing 25 to 35, dressing or undressing 48, ironing 74, dishwashing 74, polishing 189. Your mother used to be able to work off some 3,000 or more calories a day just keeping house.

My thanks to Lynn Hulsey, director of the Junior Softball League, for his aid in publicizing the games this summer. Without his work in keeping statistics and reviewing the action of each game, there might have been very little about the league in the paper. He did a good job. Thanks, Lynn.—BC

New Wrinkle - - Learn To Teach While Watching Television at Home

If you want to become a teacher —right away—but don't have a teaching certificate, all you've got to do is watch your television. This sounds like a TV giveaway gimmick, but it is a sound and approved bid for new teachers by the Texas Education Agency.

The program is almost as simple as the turning of the TV knob. Here's how it will work. A person who holds a college degree, but no teacher's certificate, may enroll through a cooperating college or universtiy, to watch a series of 26 weekly programs. When he enrolls, he may be employed immediately by a school superintendent and will be issued an emergency teaching permit.

When he has watched the whole series of programs, has read related materials and has taken an examination, he will then be given a three-year renewal of the emergency teaching permit.

Should he decide to make a career of teaching, he may earn a permanent certificate by completing 12 semester hours of college work.

Amarillo station KGNC-TV and West Texas State College will cooperate with the Texas Education Agency by instituting the program series, with the first program due to start Sept. 29, and continuing through the series of 26 through the fall and spring. Time for the 30-minute program has not yet been set, but will be shown each Saturday morning.

Interested persons may enroll immediately for the "course," and be eligible for a teaching post in the Amarillo televiewing area. Cost of enrolling is $10, and is to be made through Curtis Babcock, coordinator of public services at WT.

The "Recruitment and Teacher Education by Television" project of the Texas Education Agency was authorized and approved by the State Board of Education, and will be financed through a grant from the Fund for Advancement of Education. It is an attempt to recruit thousands of needed teachers for Texas schools.

A state-wide program, the recruitment project will be set up in 14 televiewing areas. A three-man coordinating committee for the Amarillo area includes Dr. Emmitt Smith, WT professor of education; R. A. Selby, assistant superintendent of Amarillo schools; and Alfred Little, Borger superintendent.

Full requirements for enrolling for the program include the holding of a bachelor's degree from an accredited college, having a C grade average, and being a citizen of the United States and of "good moral character." Participants must enroll for the series at WT and view the programs.

The programs are designed to introduce to viewers the job of the teacher, in dealing with children of all ages, the nature of child growth and development, the nature of learning, the content of schools' curriculum and the place of the school in American society.

Around the Town . .

What does one say after seeing a play and an actress that left a profound, undying impression? What does one say after being entralled, envisioned even to the point of having felt that one was there, a part of not the audience but the time and action of the play, captivated by the starring actress?

Great? Magnificent? Radiant? Real? All that has been said about Julie Harris starring actress of The Lark currently being produced at Central City, Colorado, in the historical opera house. After The Lark opened on Broadway November 1955, the critics praised or as Time magazine said, "tucked away their typewriters for violins."

Time related that one critic had said, "Joan of Arc was put into history so that Julie Harris could play the part." Ethel Barrymore, after Julie's performance in Member of the Wedding, said, "That girl can do anything." And surely this following statement has now become familiar. From John Chapman of the New York's Daily News: "For many years I have treasured the word great. This morning it belongs to Miss Harris."

Post's Richard Watts said that he had "never seen a finer portrayal of Joan. And Walter Kerr of Trib said, "fiercely wonderfully believable" in her "dazzling honesty." And Time's Brooks Atkinson called her a "fiery particle" and Joan "her finest, most touching performance."

After the matinee performance Sunday, members of the drama tour group that left West Texas State College early Saturday morning, had the fortune to meet briefly Julie Harris in her dressing room backstage. She left the stage, her small mouth shaped in a quiet, relaxed half-smile, and in her dressing room, wearing the olive green Joan of Arc costume that she had worn through the entire play, she greeted her admiring guests. Instantly, one felt her charm, her quietness and even the strenght that she had portrayed in Joan.

It's hard to believe that she is 30 years old. Her child-like face had a beautiful sweetness, and her body completely belies the fact that she is a mature woman and mother. When the curtain went up on the first act, she was sitting in the trial room, bent, head in hands and for all the world looked no more than fourteen years old. And yet there is no feeling of childishness perhaps from the straight, almost rigid way she stands and perhaps from the strong movements of her expressive hands which are slightly large for her body and are creased.

She greeted each member of the group individually and when all were there she asked where we were from. "West Texas State College," Dr. Ples Harper, co-director of the tour replied. "Has it rained?" she asked. Later she graciously consented to sign a portrait of herself for the Branding Iron Theatre, and even though ready to drop with exhaustion she autographed programs. When told to just make a cross, she smiled and instantly came back with the reply, "That's what Joan does." But she signed carefully each program given her.

Forgive the expression, but she went over with a bang with the group. Leaving the dressing room, the drama tour group made such remarks as: "She's so sincere." "She's so humble." "She's so genuine." On the way back to Denver a lot of the group just sat and thought.

Julie's husband, Stage Manager Manning Gurian, who made the meeting possible, said, when asked what makes Julie great, "Complete dedication to the theatre and to her family." Julie, who leads a plain life with no furs, jewelry and glamour, likes to spend every moment possible with her young son and even does her own housework. She had to almost force herself to go back to the theatre after her son was born, but she could not forsake the theatre. She said, when she first entered Miss Hewitt's drama class years ago that she wanted to be an actress because "It's my life." She meant it. Her husband knows it. Her audience knows it.

While watching Julie in The Lark, I was entirely captivated by her from the moment the curtain went up. I felt compassion, a sympathy, even love for Joan. These feelings were for Joan, because Julie was no longer Hiss Harris, she was Joan completely. When the inquisitor tormented Joan, I had the feeling of wanting to say, "I hate you. Leave her alone." (The supporting cast was excellent, and teamed with Julie what more could you ask.)

Joan wept, she was humanly afraid, determinedly courageous and she suffered. She was a peasant girl with gentle natural humor, remarkable devotion to the cause of France and an undying faith without which Joan would have been invincible.

And when Julie went up in flames and those who had condemned her denounced themselves, I cried and didn't care because by that time what happened to Joan was of most importance and those around me joined me in tears. When it was all over, two people looked at each other and said, "I'm tired."

Tired because of much emotion? No, I like the expression of Time that said that Julie did not spray emotions in all directions over the audience, but intensity of one feeling. And that one intense feeling I believe is the stubborn courage of an unlettered girl against the erudition of the church.

Jean Anouilh, author of The Lark, interpretated Joan of Arc as a lark in the sky of France. Listen to the words spoken by Warwick of England at beginning of second act. "The girl was a lark in the skies of France, high over the heads of her soldiers, singing a joyous crazy song of courage. There she was outlined against the sun, a target for everybody to shoot at, flying straight and happy into battle. To Frenchmen, she was the soul of France. She was to me too. Monseigneaur, I like France. Of course, you have your fair share of fools and blackguards. But every once in a while a lark does appear in your sky and then everything stupid and evil is wiped out by the shadow of the lark."

And as Joan said in the final lines of the play, "Let's end with it, please, if nobody would mind."

Preference

A girl, filling out a form before going to college came to the question: "What is your denominational preference? She wrote: "I like to be called Betty."

Education Prof Gets Doctorate

Joseph Findley, associate professor of education at West Texas State College, will receive his doctorate in commencement exercises Thursday at Colorado State College of Education. Findley completed requirements at the Greeley institution this summer.

Findley's dissertation for the Ed.D. degree was a study of the steps in the counseling process. He and his major professor, Dr. Arno H. Leuker, plan a series of articles for professional publications on phases of his study.

A graduate of Texas Christian University, where he earned the B.A. and M.Ed. degrees, Findley joined the WT staff in 1947. He was minister of the First Christian Church in Memphis from 1938 to 1942 and minister of the Canyon Christian Church from 1942 until 1947.

Findley was honored last spring by the Randall County Commissioners Court for his work with juvenile delinquent problems in the county. The court passed a special resolution citing Findley's work.

Formerly president of the Randall County Unit of the Texas State Teachers Association, Findley is a member of the National Education Association, College Classroom Teachers Association, and Phi Kappa and Kappa Delta Pi, two professional education fraternities.

Egg Quality Drops In Over-90 Heat

COLLEGE STATION—When daytime temperatures hit 90 degrees, egg quality will hit the skids unless egg producers make some changes in management practices, says Kermit Schlamb, extension poultry marketing specialist.

From now until cool weather in the fall, refrigeration is a must if high egg quality is to be maintained. Schlamb says that 55 degrees F. is the optimum temperature for maintaining proper egg environment. Too, eggs must be gathered more often during hot weather with three times a day gathering as a minimum.

Low quality is costly to producers selling on grade. "A" quality eggs of similar size normally bring four to six cents a dozen more than B quality eggs. Eggs can be properly cooled for as little as 10 cents a case.

Adequate cooling, points out the specialist, is no substitute for frequent marketings. Even with good refrigeration, eggs should be delivered to the grading station either twice or three times a week.

Good cooling, says Schlamb, means getting the animal heat out of the egg in the shortest possible time and at the lowest cost. A cooling unit containing a tray for holding wire baskets with space underneath for storing eggs in cases is the most desirable cooling equipment. Added egg income from the use of such a unit will soon retire its cost.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

The Furor Over The Supreme Court

Where did it all start?

Few people have taken the trouble to find out the history of the doctrine which seems to be causing so much trouble today. That is, the doctrine that the Supreme Court has the power to declare an Act passed by the duly elected officials of the people, to wit, the Congress of the United States, repugnant to the Constitution and therefore unconstitutional and of no force and effect. Thus vesting in the Supreme Court the final veto power concerning the rules, regulations and laws by which our daily lives are governed.

It all started in 1801 immediately after Thomas Jefferson was sworn in as President of the United States. At the time the political parties were the Federalists on the one side and the Democratic-Republicans on the other side. The general philosophies of these parties were in keeping with the general alignments of thought as between Jefferson and Hamilton. The Jeffersonian doctrine was based upon a distrust of centralized government and the advocacy of confidence in the people's capacity to govern. The Hamiltonian philosophy supported a strong national government by a sort of "royal purple" group who would have full control of the centralized powers and be able to govern without interference from the people.

At the time President Adams was leader of the Federalists, while Vice-President Jefferson was leader of the Democratic-Republicans. The Federalists had gotten in bad favor with the public and realized that they would be turned out of office in the December 3, 1800, election. They were correct. Thomas Jefferson was elected President at that time and prepared to be inaugurated on March 4, 1801. The Federalists, in an effort to perpetuate their power, undertook between the date of the election, December 3, 1800, and the date of Jefferson's inauguration, March 4, 1801, to fill all open offices with Federalist followers. The number one appointment in this plan went to John Marshall, President Adams' Secretary of State and a loyal Federalist. He was appointed the third Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court. There were a number of other appointments made by Prsident Adams, among them being the appointment of a Justice of the Peace for the District of Columbia. The recipient of this appointment was Mr. William Marbury, who was appointed on March 2, 1801, just two days before Jefferson's inauguration.

In the confusion of the change of Administrations, the then Secretary of State, John Marshall, signed and sealed the appointments, but apparently got busy on other matters and forgot to issue the commissions to several appointees, including William Marbury. Jefferson, upon inauguration, had instructed his Secretary of State, James Madison, to withhold the issuance of these commissions. Whereupon, Marbury filed suit against James Madison, the new Secretary of State, in the Supreme Court of the United States. Thus was born the famous case of Marbury vs Madison, with which all students of the law are familiar.

Since the Supreme Court's power to take original jurisdiction in cases is limited to a very narrowly defined class of cases, there was much discussion about Marbury having filed his suit in the Supreme Court rather than a trial court. The filing of the case in the Supreme Court created a situation whereby John Marshall, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, was called upon to decide whether or not the Court could compel James Madison, Secretary of State, to issue a commission that Chief Justice John Marshall, while serving as Secretary of State John Marshall, had neglected to issue.

Since the Marbury case was clearly outside of the original jurisdiction of the Supreme Court, the normal procedure would have been for the Court to decline to hear the case and permit the complainant to file his suit in a proper court. However, for some reason, Chief Justice Marshall brought into the picture the Judiciary Act of 1789, an Act to control the procedures in federal courts. He indicated that, although the Supreme Court could not hear the Marbury case under the Constitutional restrictions, there were provisions in the Judiciary Act, a statute passed by Congress, that would permit the Supreme Court to hear the case. He then proceeded to hold that, because according to his conclusions the Judiciary Act was in conflict with the Constitution, the Judiciary Act became unconstitutional and therefore void. This action on the part of Chief Justice Marshall has been interpreted as a master stroke of a devoted advocate to centralized government. It created the doctrine that the Supreme Court had the power to declare Acts of Congress unconstitutional. Power which was bitterly opposed by Jefferson's followers.

Had John Marshall held against Jefferson's followers on the Marbury case and had entered a judgment requiring Madison to issue Marbury a commission, there was a strong chance that Marshall might have been impeached. Many thought that Marshall realized this and thereupon conceived his idea of not endangering his position as Chief Justice, but at the same time, creating a strong weapon in the hands of advocates of centralized government. This approach left the Jefferson followers in the position of having won the Marbury case for which they could not complain, but of having to accept, as a thorn with the roses so to speak, the establishment of a doctrine that vested the Supreme Court with final veto powers on all legislative actions. It is interesting to note that in 35 years that John Marshall served as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, he never again declared an Act of Congress unconstitutional.

It is also well to remember in this connection that as matters now stand, the laws passed by the duly elected officials of this land are in a strange position. These laws can be knocked down by the Supreme Court of the United States as being unconstitutional. Yet, a treaty between this country and a foreign country, written and entered into by the Executive Branch of the government and duly approved by the Senate, is on a parity with, if not superior to, the Constitution. But in any event as the law presently stands, the laws passed by the Congress are subservient to such treaties, as well as the Constitution, so you can imagine how far down this puts the laws of the several states.

It's a Shame

"I'm sorry, madam," said the attendant at the movie, "but you can't take the dog into the theatre."

"How absurd," protested the woman. "What harm can pictures do a little dog like this?"

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

Texans didn't originate this tall-tale business.

The ancient historian, Herodotus, tells some good ones. For example: Egypt's sacred bird, the phoenix. He is frank to state, "I have not seen a phoenix myself "but this is scarcely surprising as it is a rare bird and visits Egypt only once every 500 years and that visit is made to bring its deceased parent all the way from Arabia.

The bird shapes myrrh into a kind of egg, as large as it can carry, then hollows it out, puts the father inside, seals the container with myrrh and the lump weighs just what is did originally. Then the phoenix carries the cargo to Egypt and buries it in the temple of the sun. The old Greek writer weakens the effect however by adding, "I give the story as it was told me—but I don't believe it."

He throws in humorous touches every now and then; for example, with regard to the Trojan War. He says the reason King Priam didn't hand over Helen to the Greek army was because she was not in Troy but in Egypt. The historian declares, "There was never an engagement (if we may believe the epic poems) in which Priam did not lose two of his sons, or three, or even more", therefore, if Helen had been in Troy, Priam would have handed her over even if she had been his own wife!

Herodotus tells about Scyllias, the most accomplished diver of his day, who was serving with the Persians and, after some of the Persian ships were wrecked, he recovered a good deal of treasure for the Persians, "besides getting a good deal for himself." Scyllias made up his mind to desert to the Greeks and he accomplished this, according to the commonly accepted account, by diving under the water at Aphetae and not coming up until he reached Artemisium, a distance of 10 miles. But again Herodotus mars his effect by saying, "My personal opinion is that he went in a boat."

He tells of the Atarantes, "the only people in the world to do without names"; and of a tribe known as the Lotophagi who owned cattle that walked backward as they grazed. This was understandable because, he informs us, the creatures had horns bending forward and downward and the horns would have stuck in the ground if the animals had tried to go any direction except backward.

Proposed Constitutional Amendments

To Be Voted on at an Election To Be Held On Nov. 6, 1956

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 2 proposing an amendment to Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, so as to change the membership of the Veterans' Land Board; so that the total amount of bonds or obligations that may be issued by the Veterans' Land Board shall be increased to Two Hundred Million Dollars ($200,000,000); providing for the issuance of said bonds or obligations and the conditions relating thereto and the use of the Veterans' Land Fund; providing for an election and the issuance of a proclamation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, be amended so that the same will hereafter read as follows:

"Section 49-b. There is hereby created a Board to be known as the Veterans' Land Board, which shall be composed of the Commissioner of the General Land Office, and two citizens of the State who shall be appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate. The Governor shall biennially appoint one such member to serve for a term of four years, with the initial appointments to the Board under this section to be for terms of two and four years, respectively, and all subsequent appointments to be according to provisions of this section. One such appointive member shall be well versed in veterans' affairs and the other such appointive member shall be well versed in finances. The Commissioner of the General Land Office shall act as Chairman of the Board and shall be the administrator of the Veterans' Land Program under such terms and restrictions as may be now or hereafter provided by law. The compensation for said appointive members shall be as fixed by the Legislature, and each shall make bond in such amount as may be prescribed by the Legislature. The Veterans' Land Board may issue not to exceed Two Hundred Million Dollars ($200,000,000) in bonds or obligations of the State of Texas for the purpose of creating a fund to be known as the Veterans' Land Fund. Such bonds shall be executed by said Board as an obligation of the State of Texas, in such form, denominations, and upon the terms as are now provided by law or as may hereafter be provided by law; provided, however, that said bonds shall bear a rate of interest not to exceed three per cent (3%) per annum, and that the same shall be sold for not less than par value and accrued interest.

"In the sale of any such bonds, a preferential right of purchase shall be given to the administrators of the various Teacher Retirement Funds, the Permanent University Funds, and the Permanent School Funds; such bonds to be issued as needed, in the opinion of the Veterans' Land Board.

"The Veterans' Land Fund shall be used by the Board for the sole purpose of purchasing lands suitable for the purpose hereinafter stated, situated in this State, (a) owned by the United States, or any governmental agency thereof; (b) owned by the Texas Prison System, or any other governmental agency of the State of Texas; or (c) owned by any person, firm, or corporation. Provided, however, the portion of the Veterans' Land Fund not immediately committed for the purchase of lands may be invested in short term United States bonds or obligations until such funds are needed for the purchase of lands. The interest accruing thereon shall become a part of the Veterans' Land Fund.

"All lands thus purchased shall be acquired at the lowest price obtainable, to be paid for in cash, and shall be a part of the Veterans' Land Fund.

"The lands of the Veterans' Land Fund shall be sold by the State to Texas veterans of the present war or wars, commonly known as World War II, and to Texas veterans of service in the armed forces of the United States of America subsequent to 1945, as may be included within this program by legislative Act, in such quantities, and on such terms, and at such prices and rates of interest, and under such rules and regulations as are now provided by law, or as may hereafter be provided by law.

"All monies received and which have been received under the Constitutional Amendment as adopted by the people of Texas at the election held on November 13, 1951, and which have not been used for repurchase of land as provided herein by the Veterans' Land Board from the sale of lands and for interest on deferred payments, shall be credited to the Veterans' Land Fund for use in purchasing additional lands to be sold to Texas veterans of World War II, and to Texas veterans of service in the armed forces of the United States of America subsequent to 1945, as may be included within this program by legislative Act, in like manner as provided for the sale of lands purchased with the proceeds from the sales of the bonds, provided for herein, for a period ending December 1, 1959; provided, however, that so much of such monies as may be necessary during the period ending December 1, 1959, to pay the principal of and interest on the bonds heretofore issued and on bonds hereafter issued by the Veterans' Land Board, shall be set aside for that purpose. After December 1, 1959, all monies received by the Veterans' Land Board from the sale of the lands and interest on deferred payments, or so much thereof as may be necessary, shall be set aside for the retirement of bonds heretofore issued and to pay interest thereon, and any of such monies not so needed shall not later than the maturity date of the last maturing bond or bonds be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund to be appropriated to such purposes as may be prescribed by law. All bonds issued hereunder shall, after approval by the Attorney General of Texas, registration by the Comptroller of the State of Texas, and delivery to the purchasers, be incontestable and shall constitute obligations of the State under the Constitution of Texas. Of the total Two Hundred Million Dollars ($200,000,000) of bonds herein authorized, the sum of One Hundred Million Dollars ($100 000,000) has heretofore been issued; said bonds heretofore issued are hereby in all respects validated and declared to be obligations of the State of Texas.

"The additional bonds herein authorized may be sold in such installments as deemed necessary and advisable by the Veterans' Land Board. All monies received from the sale of land and for interest on deferred payments on land purchased with the proceeds of such additional bonds, shall be credited to the Veterans' Land Fund for use in purchasing additional lands to be sold to Texas veterans, as herein provided, in like manner as provided for the sale of lands purchased with the proceeds from the sales of the bonds provided for herein, for a period ending December 1, 1965; provided, however, that so much of such monies as may be necessary to pay interest on the additional bonds herein provided for shall be set aside for that purpose. After December 1, 1965, all monies received by the Veterans' Land Board from the sale of the lands and interest on payments, or so much thereof as may be necessary, shall be set aside for the retirement of said additional bonds and to pay interest thereon, and any of such monies not so needed shall not later than the maturity date of the last maturing bond be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund to be appropriated to such purposes as may be prescribed by law.

"This amendment shall be effective on and after January 1, 1957."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at the general election to be held throughout the State of Texas on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1956, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

"FOR the Amendment to Section 49-b of Article III of the Constitution of Texas to change the membership of the Veterans' Land Board; increasing the Veterans' Land Fund by $100,000,000; said fund to be used for the purpose of purchasing land in Texas to be sold to Texas veterans of World War II and to Texas veterans of service in the Armed Forces of the United States of America subsequent to 1945. Such funds shall be expended in accordance with instructions and requirements that may be provided by law."; and

"AGAINST the Amendment to Section 49-b of Article III of the Constitution of Texas to change the membership of the Veterans' Land Board; increasing the Veterans' Land Fund by $100,000,000: said fund to be used for the purpose of purchasing land in Texas to be sold to Texas veterans of World War II and to Texas veterans of service in the Armed Forces of the United States of America subsequent to 1945. Such funds shall be expended in accordance with instructions and requirements that may be provided by law."

If it appears from the returns of said election that a majority of the votes cast were in favor of said amendment, the same shall become a part of the State Constitution and be effective from the date set forth in said amendment, and the Governor shall issue a proclamation in keeping therewith.

Sec. 3. Should the Legislature pass legislation with regard to this amendment prior to its adoption, it shall not be invalid because of its anticipatory nature.

Sec. 4. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election, and shall have the same published as required by the Constitution and Laws of this State.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 15 proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas by amending Article VII, Sections 17 and 18, providing a method of payment for the construction and equipment of buildings and other permanent improvements at State institutions of higher learning and repealing Chapter 330, Acts, Regular Session, Fifty-third Legislature; and proposing an amendment to Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding a new section after Section 11 thereof to be designated as Section 11a, providing for the improved support of The University of Texas and the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas from a source other than tax revenue by providing for the broader investment of the Permanent University Fund in corporate bonds and stocks under certain conditions and limitations; providing for an election and the issuance of a proclamation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Sections 17 and 18 of Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

"Section 17. In lieu of the State ad valorem tax on property of Seven Cents (7¢) on the One Hundred Dollar ($100) valuation heretofore permitted to be levied by Section 51 of Article 3, as amended, there is hereby levied, in addition to all other taxes permitted by the Constitution of Texas, a State ad valorem tax on property of Two Cents (2¢) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100) valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the continuing payment of Confederate pensions as provided under Section 51, Article 3, and for the establishment and continued maintenance of the State Building Fund as provided in Section 51b, Article 3, of the Constitution.

"Also, there is hereby levied, in addition to all other taxes permitted by the Constitution of Texas, a State ad valorem tax on property of Five Cents (5¢) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100) valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the purpose of acquiring, constructing and initially equipping buildings, or other permanent improvements at the designated institutions of higher learning; and the governing board of each of such institutions of higher learning is fully authorized to pledge all or any part of said funds allotted to such institution as hereinafter provided, to secure bonds or notes issued for the purpose of acquiring, constructing and initially equipping such buildings or other permanent improvements at said respective institutions. Such bonds or notes shall be issued in such amounts as may be determined by the governing boards of said respective institutions, shall bear interest not to exceed three per cent (3%) per annum and shall mature serially or otherwise not later than September 1, 1968, and September 1, 1978, respectively; provided, the power to issue bonds or notes hereunder is expressly limited to a period of twenty(20) years from the effective date of this amendment; and provided further, that the Five Cent (5¢) tax hereby levied shall expire finally upon payment of all bonds or notes hereby authorized; provided, further, that the State tax on property as heretofore permitted to be levied by Section 9 of Article VIII, as amended, exclusive of the tax necessary to pay the public debt, and of the taxes provided for the benefit of the public free schools, shall never exceed Thirty Cents (30¢) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100) valuation. All bonds shall be examined and approved by the Attorney General of the State of Texas, and when so approved shall be incontestable; and all approved bonds shall be registered in the office of the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas. Said bonds shall be sold only through competitive bids and shall never be sold for less than their par value and accrued interest.

"Funds raised from said Five Cent (5¢) tax levy for the ten-year period beginning January 1, 1958, shall be allocated by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas on June first of that year, based on the average long session full-time student equivalent enrollment (fifteen (15) semester credit hours shall constitute one full-time student) for the preceding five-year period of time, to the following State institutions of higher learning then in existence, to wit:

Texas State College for Women at Denton; Texas College of Arts and Industries at Kingsville; Texas Technological College at Lubbock; East Texas State Teachers College at Commerce; North Texas State College at Denton; Sam Houston State Teachers College at Huntsville; Southwest Texas State Teachers College at San Marcos; Stephen F. Austin State College at Nacogdoches; Sul Ross State College at Alpine; West Texas State College at Canyon; Texas Southern University at Houston; Lamar State College of Technology at Beaumont.

"Not later than June first of the beginning year of each succeeding ten-year period, the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, based on the average long session full-time student equivalent enrollment (fifteen (15) semester credit hours shall constitute one full-time student) for the preceding five-year period of time, shall re-allocate, to the above-designated institutions of higher learning then in existence, all funds to be derived from said Five Cent (5¢) ad valorem tax for said ten-year period; and all such designated institutions of higher learning which participate in the allocation or reallocation of such funds shall not thereafter receive any General Revenue funds for the acquiring or constructing of buildings or other permanent improvements for which said Five Cent (5¢) ad valorem tax is herein provided, except in case of fire, flood, storm, or earthquake occurring at any such institution, in which case an appropriation in an amount sufficient to replace the uninsured loss so incurred may be made by the Legislature out of any General Revenue funds. The State Comptroller of Public Accounts shall draw all necessary and proper warrants upon the State Treasury in order to carry out the purpose of this amendment; and the State Treasurer shall pay warrants so issued out of the special fund hereby created for said purpose. This amendment shall be self-enacting; provided, however, it shall not become operative or effective upon its adoption so as to supersede or repeal the former provisions of this Section, but shall become so operative and effective on January 1, 1958; provided, further, that nothing herein shall be construed as impairing the obligation incurred by any outstanding notes or bonds heretofore issued by any State institution of higher learning under this Section prior to the adoption of this amendment, but such notes or bonds shall be paid, both as to principal and interest, from the fund as heretofore allocated to any such institution under this Section, nor shall the provisions of this amendment affect in any way the prior allocation of the revenue for the ten-year period beginning January 1, 1948, as heretofore authorized by the provisions of Section 17 of Article VII of this Constitution as adopted August 23, 1947. Chapter 330, Acts, Regular Session, Fifty-third Legislature is repealed upon the effective date of this Amendment; but the principal and interest due on any obligations incurred by the governing boards of Lamar State College of Technology at Beaumont and of Texas Southern University at Houston under the provisions of said Chapter 330 prior to its repeal shall be paid from the allocations to Lamar State College of Technology and Texas Southern University from the funds raised by the Five Cent (5¢) ad valorem tax levy as provided in this Section, and the annual allocations to these institutions under this Section shall be first devoted to current requirements for meeting such obligations in accordance with their terms.

Osbornes Will Live in Houston

MRS. WILLIAM MAYS OSBORNE

Mr. and Mrs. William Mays Osborne are on a wedding trip to Seattle, Wash., and points nearby in the United States and Canada; and after Sept. 6 will be at home at 4004 Law, Houston, Texas.

Mrs. Osborne, nee Bettie Jean Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Graham who live southwest of Canyon, and William Mays Osborne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mays Osborne, Plainview, were married Aug. 17 at 8 o'clock in the evening in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Strauss Atkinson officiating over the double-ring ceremony.

The candlelight ceremony was performed before a three panelled gothic arch background, which, supplemented by spotlights, accented the bridal party. Directly in front of the center panel stood a large pedestal, entwined with smilax garlands, which held a white urn filled with white stock and red carnations.

Centered in each of the side gothic panels were spiral candelabra flanked by two tier fountain arrangements of white stock and red carnations. On the extreme edges stood pedastals topped with red carnations filled white urns.

The extreme back of the choir loft was edged with smilax garlands, and the choir rail was draped with white satin which extended out from the center panels with edgings of smilax garlands and red carnations.

Seven bract candelabra, Jade palms and standards completed the background. Three branch candelabra marked the bridal aisle and clusters of red carnations were used alternately.

Mrs. Lee Foster, organist, played as pre-ceremony selections Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring (Bach), Chorale: May Angels Bright Be Near Me (Bach), Evening Prayer (Humperdinck). Andagio Cantabile (Beethoven) was played as the mothers were seated and candles lighted. The groom, minister, groomsmen and bride's attendants entered to Ariosa (Hendel). Bridal Chorus (Wagner) was used as the processional and Wedding March (Mendelssohn) was played as the recessional.

Wearing identical waltz length gowns of white silk paper shantung styled with princess lines and topped by soft rolled collars, attendants were Billie Graham, maid of honor and sister of the bride, Mable Anne Graham, sister of the bride, Mayla Atkinson, Canyon, and Agatha Holland of Waco. Their headdresses were white shantung covered pillbox rings, with shoulder-length circular veils of white maline. Their bouquets were arm cascades of red carnations.

Candlelighters, Margaret Osborne, sister of the bridegroom, and Lynn Atkinson, wore dresses identical to those of the bridal attendants. The lighting tapers were centered in nosegays of red carnations.

Best man was Corpus Ortigoza of the Philippines. Groomsmen were Burke Purdie, Houston; Clifford Hewett, Plainview; Bob Perry, Plainview. Rex Ramsower of Plainview, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; Nolon Henson Jr., brother-in-law of the bride; and Bill Howerton of Abilene were ushers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of Chantilly lace over white satin, fashioned with a fitted bodice fastened low in the back with self-covered buttons and a high Victorian collar effect. The dress yoke was outlined in seed pearls and the long fitted sleeves came to petal points over her hands. The short fitted peplum came to a low point in the back.

Her fingertip length veil of white maline fell from a satin and rosepoint lace covered pillbox with a drop pearl at the point of the center forehead. A row of tiny pearls edged the cap, white rosepoint lace roses were appliqued in alternating scallops at the edge of the veil. The bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement centered with a white orchid.

A cluster of red carnations surrounded the orchid and dainty lily of the valley edged the center cluster and also formed the cascade tied with white satin streamers and love knots. Lace leaves edged with satin tubeing were used as accents.

The bride's mother wore a moche-shaded lace over cream satin. Her corsage was of ivory vanta orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore pink paper taffeta with matching accessories. Her corsage was of ivory vanta orchids.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception for the bridal couple was held at the Baptist Student Center. The bride's table, draped with a floor length pink satin cloth was centered with a three tiered wedding cake decorated with red sugar carnations. Silver punch bowls were at either end of the serving table.

multi-million dollar hospital program recommended in the survey. At the present time, Randall County could not participate in such a program by law, he said.

In other action by the commission, six condemnation suits were ordered against property owners along the Canyon-Amarillo expressway. One purchase of right of way was approved. That purchase was from Frazier McGuire.

Lanham Nelson and A. C. Youngblood, right of way agents for the county, told the commission that Jenkins had been appraised at $350 an acre for 17.384 acres, and he is asking $500 an acre.

They said Rose Mathes' property was appraised at $450 an acre for 17.518 acres and she was asking $700 an acre.

Manning's property, including 1.693 acres, moving a fence, tank, irrigation gate and tree, was appraised at $1192.55 and Manning is asking $1,800, Nelson and Youngblood said.

Wiegard's property has been appraised at $14,502 and he is asking $20,550. The property includes a filling station building, residence and 1.1 acres.

Property needed from Hail has been appraised at $11,274 for 2.484 acres, a driveway, underground waterpipe and trees. Hail has already been paid $2,440 for damages due to leases he had on buildings on the property. Nelson and Youngblood said Hail wants a total of $25,000.

The Bush estate has been offered $400 an acre plus fence allowance for 17.936 acres in one tract and $500 an acre plus fence allowance for 12.990 acres in another tract. The right of way agents said they had received no answers from their offers.

.05 of manganese, 157 of sodium, 360 of bicarbonate, 35 of sulphate, 21 of chloride, 2.4 of fluoride, and less than .4 of nitrate. Although the tests the city has on record do not show it, the salt content would be well under 200 parts per million.

Since there is the definite possibility that Well No. 5 will not be useable for city water, the city commission is faced with the immediate problem of finding other water sources for the city next summer.

The city commission has tried for the past several years to obtain the use of some of the water in Buffalo Lake for the city, but all attempts have been unsuccessful. Authorities of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority have approached the city with the proposition of selling water.

The CRMWA could not supply water for another six or seven years at best, and the contracts offered have put the cost per thousand gallons at a prohibitive figure.

If the city must turn to the method of drilling other wells, several months of work must be undertaken before any water could be supplied. The city would have to obtain water rights from land owners; drill test holes to see if water is actually present and if it is usable for city consumption; obtain money for development, most likely from a bond election; drill the wells and install pumps; and lay pipe lines from the new wells to the city pump station.

The average daily consumption this summer, before August, was about 1.3 million gallons. During the first 20 days of August, the average daily use was 1,644,730—only 500,000 gallons below the top production figure.

At present, the city commission studied the problem, but made no decision as to what course to follow in getting more water before the shortage actually develops.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Rushing of Fort Worth and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Flake of Plainview were recent visitors in the Fred Standley home.

Simms-Dietz Vows Exchanged Saturday

On Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the First Methodist Church, Alice May Simms, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Parmer Simms, 1707 Seventh Avenue, became the bride of Gerald Paul Dietz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Eldon Dietz of Borger.

Bob Wear, minister of the Central Church of Christ, officated at the double-ring ceremony. Vows were exchanged before the altar draped with white satin and smilax garlands. Directly behind the center altar was a large pink satin fan with ribs covered with smilax foliage and clusters of white pom-pom mums.

Flanking the altar were seven bract and swirl candlebra holding pink baroque candles and large floor standards filled with pink mums and white pom-pom mums. Completing the background were large palms of jade and emerald foliage. Light pink satin draped the choir and communion rails and the bridal aisle was marked with aisle candleabra each holding three pink baroque candles tied with satin streamers.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Glenn Dowlen, organist, played Arisso in E Flat (Bach); Sarabonde from Sixth Cello Suite (Bach); Cantabile (Franck); Arisso in D Major (Handel); Dedication (Schumann); Clair de Lune (Debussy); and Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring.

The vocalist, Mrs. Gort Rushmer, cousin of the bride, sang Elizabeth Barrett Browning's sonnet, "How Do I Love Thee" (Lippe) and "Calm As the Night" (Bohm).

The attendants, Gretchen Chappell, Fort Worth, Grace Alexander, Fort Worth, Mrs. Boyd White, Clarendon, and June Davis, Canyon, bridesmaids; Dorothy Neblett, Canyon, maid of honor; and Mrs. Bill Burford, Lubbock, cousin of the bride, matron of honor, wore identical floor length dresses of pink silk taffeta.

The scoop neckline of their dresses was accented with deeper pink cumberbunds and bows draping the bouffant skirts.

Their hats were capulets of interwoven network of pink taffeta with circular moline veils. Their mitts were of pink taffeta, matching their dresses. Each attendent carried a delicate pink tule fan with a cluster of light pink Amaryllis lillies tied with matching pink and silver streamers.

Best man was Robert Eldon Dietz, Borger, brother of the bridegroom. Groomsmen were Bill Burford, Lubbock, cousin of the bride, and Mel Lemos, Lubbock.

Flower girls Lynn Pond and Kay Heare wore floor length pale pink bouffant taffeta skirts with tiers of pale tule ruching and carried pink tule and taffeta baskets.

The candle lighters were Richard Dietz, Borger, brother of the bridegroom, and Susan Gaudy, Baxter Springs, Kan., cousin of the bridegroom. She wore a dress identical with the flowergirls and had a wristlet of pale pink sweetheart roses.

Ushers were Jack Owens, Odessa, Tom Edmonds, Borger, and Mickey Simms, Clovis N. M., cousin of the bride.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length bridal gown of embroidered nylon ule which featured a bouffant overskirt outlined with scolloped embroidery down the front and back. Embroidery delicately outlined the neck line and sleeves.

The bride wore long matching mitts of nylon tule. The veil was a brim capulet of sheer illusion laced with trim seed pearls and was finger-tip length of sheer illusion. The capulet held to the head with a pearl-trimmed clamp.

Her bouquet was a white orchid surrounded with pale pink Amarylis and Stephanotis on a white Bible with a shower ribbon, moline bows and Stephanotis.

Mrs. Dietz, mother of the bridegroom, wore a brocaded chiffon sheath over taffeta with matching chiffon duster, champagne in color. Her hat was semi-large in champagne velvet with tule surrounding the brim.

The corsages worn by both Mrs. Simms and Mrs. Dietz were pink cymbidiums.

For a wedding trip to Colorado, the bride wore a transition-stiped, cashmere cotton three-piece suit in charcoal grey and a red British sailor. She wore a white orchid corsage.

After Sept. 1, the couple will be at home at 3117 Julian Boulevard in Amarillo.

The bride attended Texas Technological College in Lubbock with a music scholarship. She was a member of the Texas Tech Choir and the Festival Choir. She was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta social sorority.

The bridegroom was granted his B.S. from Texas Tech in 1955 with a major in petroleum geology. He was a member of Sigma Chi social fraternity, Sigma Gamma Epsilon, honorary geology fraternity, and the Texas Tech band. He received the Standard Oil Company geological scholarship in 1954-55. He has been employed in the land and geological department of Phillips Petroleum Company since January, 1956. He is stationed in Amarillo.

MRS. GERALD PAUL DIETZ

A garden reception following the wedding was held at the home of the bride's parents. A pale taffeta cloth draped with tulle covered the serving table. The centerpiece was backed with a white lace fan surrounded by white rose buds and pom-pom mums. Mrs. Robert Eldon Ditez, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, presided at the punch bowl. Elda Dietz, Baxter Springs, Kan., aunt of the bridegroom, cut the wedding cake. Mrs. Emmett Burford, aunt of the bride, presided at the guest book.

Members of the houseparty for the reception were Mrs. Jerry Swaringen, Mrs. J. D. Hearn, Mrs. Robert McClendon, Mrs. Duane Howard, Mrs. Newton Richardson, Mrs. Tom Brasher, Mrs. Roscoe Davis, Mrs. Ed Weeks, Juannelle Burrus, Diane Prichard and Virginia Leake, all of Canyon, Mrs. Don Patterson, Austin, Mrs. John Poindexter, Hereford, and Linda Rogers, Lubbock.

Mrs. Frank Bledsoe, Lubbock, Mrs. Gary Simms, Panhandle. Mrs. R. Earl O'Keefe, Amarillo, and Mrs. Harold Simms, Clovis, N. M., aunts of the bride, presided in the gift display room.

Wrecks Kill 8 In Panhandle

Eight persons were killed and 75 injured in 110 accidents that occurred in July on highways in the Panhandle, according to a report by Capt. J. W. Blackwell, commanding officer of the Amarillo District of the Highway Patrol.

The report shows that $55,903 in property damage was done in the accidents.

The number of persons killed was three under the toll for the same month last year, but was five over the number killed in June of this year. So far in 1956, 44 persons have been killed and 438 injured. During the same period last year, 50 persons were killed and 446 injured.

Speeding was listed as the principal violation causing July accidents—the same violation as in June. Second on the list in both months was driving while drinking. The third major cause in July was following too closely. Others were driving on the wrong side of the road not passing and failure to grant right of way.

In June, the third major cause was failure to grant right of way. The other causes were driving on the wrong side of the road not passing and following too closely.

So far this year almost a half-million dollars in damage has been added up. The total through July was $467,751. For the same period last year the damage total was $464,139.

In carrying out their basic duties of traffic law enforcement, the 33 patrolmen of the 26 counties made 810 traffic arrests, 414 for speeding and 26 for driving while intoxicated. They also issued 1,996 warnings.

They worked 4,378 daylight hours and 3,089 at night. They traveled 87,937 miles, more than three times around the earth.

Former Canyonite Flies Crippled C-97

Major Warren Lockhart, formerly of Canyon, was the pilot of a C-97 Stratocruiser that demonstrated in Honolulu recently that the plane could stay in the air and maintain both its altitude and airspeed with only two engines.

Lockhart, chief of flight operations of the 150 Second Air Transport Wing, feathered two engines and demonstrated that the remaining two were not pulling their maximum horsepower.

Each engine in the C-97 is capable of generating 8,200 horsepower. The Stratocruiser carries 66 passengers.

Major Lockhart is the husband of the former Jean Slack. She is in Honolulu with him.

LIPSTICK LOGIC

BY LOUISE ALLEN

The custom of keeping-things-for-the-children may have had its day. For when Son becomes a man he may marry a girl who likes everything modern. When Daughter grows up, she may marry an interior decorator. Either may live in a trailer, an apartment hotel, or a mountain cabin—where those things once treasured for their delicate beauty may seem unnecessary or out of place.

The other night a young man proudly displayed a copper percolator urn that had belonged to his parents for 25 or 30 years. It bore their monogram in old English letters. Other treasures dug from barrels stored in out-of-the-way places were a cut glass pitcher, some finely etched goblets and a set of Bavarian china. Luckily, he loved and appreciated them.

His wife said: "The only trouble is we had started our own china, too." And "There are just six of things, and we almost always have eight when we entertain." Without knowing it, she resented their intrusion into her small home.

The mother, an attractive woman, has for years been resigned to let life pass her by. They uprooted their home when the son was nearly grown to move to a new town. Her husband was ill for several years before he died.

If her special way of enjoying the pretty things she and her husband had selected for their own home was by putting them away to keep for Jimmy's wife, she did right. But if either of them would have enjoyed using them more, we wonder.

Somewhere between the extremes of saving everything for a next generation that may not appreciate your taste, and breaking up one's wedding gifts during the first three years of marriage, there must be a way to make material things bring the most happiness to the most folks.

Guests in the home of Mrs. Hattie Brasuel last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Brasuel and children of Cuba, N. M., who had been vacationing in Florida; Mr. and Mrs. V. J. McGee and children of Borger, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Jones and children of Plainview and Mrs. Tankersley of Dallas.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

Hairy vetch is a winter annual legume. It makes good grazing, good cover and excellent soil conditioner and soil improvement crop. It is highly recommended on irrigated soils.

Plant anytime, between July 15 and Oct. 15, and if you are going to broadcast it use between 15 and 20 pounds of seed per acre. 8 to 10 pounds if you are going to use with rye. Use about 15 to 20 pounds of rye seed when planting with vetch.

When broadcasting have land clean and work very shallow with sweeps or disc plow. When planting in row crop it can be aerialy seeded around Aug. 15 to Oct. 15, or while on last cultivation. All seed should be inoculated before planting. Planting depth is 1½ to 2½ inches. You can use a common grain drill for seeding.

With proper management vetch will produce an abundant pasture. It takes regular irrigations and should be broken up into four pastures, so that the stock can be rotated while irrigating and grazing.

WT's Modernistic Stained Glass Window Lighted at Night While School is Out

About 5 or 6 p. m. each day as the sun begins to lower, a carpet of splendid colors spreads across the main floor of the West Texas College library and makes reflecting mirrors of the marble walls.

That is, each day since last Friday when the installation of a glass window was begun in the large paneled window that faces the west at the top of the stair landing in line with the main entrance.

Installed by John Tatschl, professor of art at the University of New Mexico, and Chris Gikas, instructor of art at WT, the 1,500 to 1,600 pane window is their joint project. It was begun last March, installation was begun Friday and by Tuesday the window was installed.

Tatschl is an expert on stained glass, having taken a special leave from the University of New Mexico four years ago to spend a year in Europe to study techniques of stained glass work.

He said, "I wanted to bring the art to the Southwest as a contribution to culture of the region, and I hope it will prove a fine contribution." Tatschl was to make an abstract design without special meaning which people could interpret themselves. Tatschl's sons said they saw people in the design, Joe Bailey, librarian, said he saw books. Tatschl said he had sunshine, trees and grass in mind when designing the window.

Gikas worked with Tatschl on stained glass windows for the Church of St. Michaels and All Angels in Albuquerque. The church windows, 10 planned and 8 completed thus far, are 4 by 8 feet, all the design of Tatschl. The college window also designed by Tatschl is about 14 by 20 feet.

Tatschl came to Canyon last winter at the request of Gikas and Joe Bailey, and after inspection of the library building agreed to design the winodw which, upon entrance from the east, leads the eyes upward on the same lines as the wrought iron rails for the stairway. Colors typical of the Southwest are reflected not only on the marble stairwalls but on the second floor glass doors and floor.

"We have used pure colors, but there are endless variations on these colors depending on where they are located in the design in relation to other colors and on the particular time of day or year with resultant outer lighting," Tatschl explained. He added that the aim of the artists has been to reflect the color pattern of the glass which is seen in earth formations of the Southwest —patterns which alter as sunlight and shadow, summer and winter play on those formations.

Tatschl explained the method and craft of making stained glass windows. He said a paper pattern of each tiney pane is made first. The paper pattern is meticulously cut to insure that the completed window will exactly fill the space provided. Next step is staining the glass. After staining, the glass is cut and leaded into panels. All this work in done entirely by the artists. Designer Tatschl stressed the importance of just the proper quality of glass in order to achieve the desired effects. He said all the glass that he uses, including that put into the library window, is the finest hand-blown antique glass which can be imported from Europe.

Tuesday, Bailey said he was considering keeping the library open after the conclusion of summer school until graduation, including Sunday. The library would be open from 2 to 6 p. m. Lights will be on during the night for a week or so in order for people driving by to see the window.

Tatschl came to the United States 20 wears ago from Vienna and is now a citizen and married to an American. For 10 years he has taught at the University of New Mexico. Stained glass work is a sideline, not part of his regular teaching. Before going to Albuquerque, he taught at Park College near Kansas City for four years. He graduated in Europe from the Fine Arts Academy and the Academy of Applied Arts and Design at Vienna and also studied under various artists.

Gikas has been a member of the WT faculty for one year. From Borger, he received his baccalaureate from Oklahoma A&M and master of fine arts degree from the University of New Mexico, Albuquerque.

Dear Editor:

Guess I should have submitted this to the city commission instead of sending it to you as it concerns them more than it does you, but I was wondering if they are ever going to get through raising taxes. One of these days they are going to add on the last straw that broke the camel's back and then what are we going to do with a dead camel?

Sort of like the game of killing the goose that lays the golden eggs and about all we have gotten out of all this lately has been the swimming hole we voted $60,000 bond for and I understand said pool was completed with a deficit expenditure.

Of course this may be a case of sour grapes on my part as I am too old to swim anyway and being a dehydrated farmer wouldn't be financially able to purchase a bathing suit if they would let me in it. Guess I should have gotten soaked in the tank at the carnival a few weeks ago as I need a bath and it would have been the first free thing I would have gotten out of this man's town.

However what am I hollering about? I get soaked plenty on my taxes.

Seriously, what this city needs more than anything is a widening of their one-way streets as it would cut down fender-scraping by over 90 per cent. However, I guess I shouldn't have mentioned it as it might give the commission new ideas about starting another multi-million dollar project. Perhaps the commission believes the Republican slogan of prosperity but it hasn't soaked down to me yet.

Keep on raising taxes and we will soon reach the point of no return. Guess I am about a week late with this, but I generally holler after I am hurt instead of before.

Happy Farmer Donates Halberd Point to Panhandle-Plains Museum

Another clue in the mystery of where Coronado might have passed if he came through the Texas Panhandle many long years before there was such a geographic location was donated to the Panhandle-Plains Museum last week.

A steel halberd, or halbert as you prefer, was given to the museum by Ray Uselding, a farmer near Happy. The weapon, a lance-type instrument used by 15th century Europeans, was found by Uselding more than 30 years ago on the farm. He also donated an iron flag standard to the museum several years ago, and it has since been authenticated as an item from the Coronado or other Spanish explorations.

Every effort will be made to identify the halberd exactly, Museum Director Boone McClure said. The weapon, added to eight or 10 other items in the museum and which have been authenticated as 15th Century Spanish, strengthens the case for the probability of Coronado's passing this way.

Like several other museum acquisitions of similar nature, the halberd was found on the route laid out for Coronado by the late Dr. Herbert Eugene Bolton, outstanding authority on the Spanish Southwest. Dr. Bolton traced a route for Coronado that disagreed with routes selected by some other leading researchers.

Dr. Bolton did not know of the relics now in the museum when he laid out the course. Each, however, has been found along the route Dr. Bolton said Coronado used.

According to McClure, Dr. Bolton's research led him to the conclusion that Coronado crossed the Palo Duro Canyon within five miles of Hamblen Drive and went north by the compass rather than due north by geography. Dr. Bolton figured that Coronado crossed what is now the town square at Claude, went across what is now Highway 66 about where Groom is situated and went to the Canadian River north of the present Pampa.

Relics now in the museum which have been found along that route include Uselding's flag standard, an iron cross from John White of Borger which was authenticated by scholars at Capistrano Mission, Calif., as 15th Century Spanish; handcuffs and a bridle bit from Archer and Wilbanks at Perryton. Not found along that route was a coat of mail authenticated as of the type used by Coronado's men and donated to the museum by Charles Reinken of Plainview.

Speaking of the halberd found by Uselding, McClure said, "It's possible some Indian picked up the halberd miles away and took it to the point near Happy where Mr. Uselding plowed it up. Although the weapon was primarily made for fighting human beings—evidenced by the hook which is designed for catching in armor and dragging a rider off his horse—some Spaniard might have used it to spear a buffalo. The buffalo could have run for miles before succumbing at the point where the halberd was found.

'In other words, we can't say Coronado or one of his men dropped this spear at exactly the point near Happy where it was found," he said.
